Message from the friends of Kismet

We are trying to get this message placed on as many North Cyprus Websites, blogs and forums as we can, but there are many out there. If you know of or are a webmaster for any of the Northern Cyprus sites that does not have this message on, please if possible place it onto the site and help us find Kismet a family.

Message from Kismet

I am about 3 months old and was about to end it all in the next couple of days. I had just about had enough of what life had dealt me, my back leg so painful I just couldn't use it, which meant finding my evening meal was all but impossible. Then just as I was getting ready to give it all up a small group of ladies who were taking a break at the seaside caught a glimpse of me, hunted my breakfast, gave me a wash and a little cuddle and renewed my faith in the kindness of humans. They even cut short their break to take me to see the doctor and then we all travelled back to Girne. So again I feel like I have become that happy little puppy I started out to be just 3 months ago. OK so I am a little skinny now and still have a bit of a limp but you just watch me grow into a loveable faithful companion.

My only problem with life now is that unfortunately for me the ladies that showed me so much love have already homed other adorable dogs like me and are not in a position to keep me very long. I don't want to go back to the streets, I want a friend who I can call my best friend and who I can keep and love for life.

I know there has to be someone who needs me out there, please help me find them.

Kismet, or whatever you feel my name should be
